Objective

> Place your objective here! We can talk about our goals in software development or even how you aspire to be a race car driver. Just make it pertinent to the position your applying for in a debonaire way. Like, 'Oh I happen to be looking for a position where I can utilize my management experience and love for ice cream and you just happen to be Dairy Queen'.

Education

Purdue University August 1989- December 1993

> 1. Here you can place all of your cool accomplishments
> 2. Like that one time you won the Google Hackathon
> 3. Or those really cool honor societies you joined
> 4. Choose these highlights based off of the position you are applying for so you can really shine

Technical Experience

Technical Experience

Product Manager New York, NY
Instagram, Technical Product Manager January 2017 – Present

- Create bullet points that reflect action, make the action word the first word in the bullet point
- Communicate important job responsibilities that are relevant to the position at hand
- Use numbers where applicable. Don't just say 'I increased sales' say 'I increased sales by 10%'
- Always place actions in the present tense, you still possess these skills.

Technical Product Manager San Fransisco, CA
Uber, San Fransisco, CA June 2016-January 2017

- Follow the same guidelines that we discussed in the first example
- Always as yourself 'What does this experience add to my resume? What gaps does it fill?
- This will help you figure out what to say!
- Keep your bullet points to one sentence, say more with less.

Customer Service Manager West Lafayette,IN
Homewood Suites West Lafayette, IN 47906 July 2014 – June 2016

- All experience is pertinent experience, it's not what you've done as much as it is how you package your accomplishements
- An example would be using this seemingly non-technical position to showcase leader ship skills
- Did you communicate with cross-functional teams or people of varying technical skill levels? You can use this section to showcase that.
- Also remember that you want to maximize your resume for buzz words. You can figure out what these are from the job posting as well as sample resumes online. This will increase your chances of getting a call for an interview.

Programming Languages

- Intermediate HTML, Intermediate SCSS,Intermediate CSS, Intermediate Typescript.
- Tip: Remember every language here is FAIR GAME, if you don't feel comfortable coding in it, do not include it. It is all about DEPTH of knowledge not BREADTH of knowledge

- Tip: You don't have to classify information as beginner,intermediate, advanced. You can also use years experience as well.

Tools/Platforms

- NetBeans, Unity, Unity MonoDevelop, Photoshop, Microsoft suite, Adobe suite, Brackets, Visual Code Studio, and Ionic.
- In lieu of this section you can also put a Foreign Languages section or a Products section if you have products in the app store
- Tip: If all of your foreign languages are Beginner, think about whether or not you want to include them
